IN MERORY OF CAPT. P. E. STOWE. "OUR NOBLE DEAD" BY CORNELLS M. NARL.

Rest noble dend! yes rest, We've lain the clay upon thy patriot breast, Strewn flowers around thy noble form, As still they bore thee from the war's alarm— Rest, rest, no cares disturb thee new, We've strown the dest upon thy marble brow-And sadly mourn beside thy grassy bid; Mourn for our noble dead.

Rest noble dead—oh rest!
No care the bolly spirit now oppress.
Taken from the glorious work on earth,
We now recail the more than priceless worth:
The deads of love, like perfamed incense rise,
To misple with the wait, that swells the skies
Prom hearts that bled, as round the grave we tre
And mourn our noble dead. d, rest our noble head; monuncutal pile: is raised above thy head, te emblem as it points to Heaven's blue— fty, but pure and good and true su wert, and freely didst thou give life, to kee thy glorious country live; d, a crown of peace now decks thy spirit he And still we mourn our noble dead.
